Providing your clinicians with the right sluice/dirty utility technology solution is not easy. Weighing performance against capital expenditure can make the decision far harder than it should be.

Are you in need of a new bedpan washer or pulp macerator, but don't have the budget to cover the capital outlay?

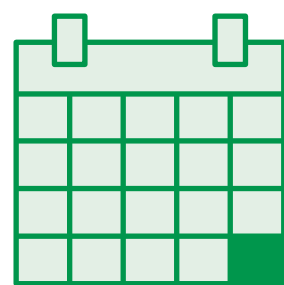

Do you have bedpan washers or macerators that are coming to the end of their life and regularly breaking down?

We believe you should never be forced to choose between safeguarding your clinicians and patients and costs.

DDC Dolphin have the solution – technology financing:

2-5 year agreements

Up to 5 years parts and labour warranty

Own your machine at the end of your agreement

Planned service visits included for the length of the agreement

Every payment is 100% allowable against tax

Think buying a machine on finance would be significantly more expensive than buying one outright?
